

Farmer's Houses.

Most every farm house contains what is called the best room, and which is only used on extraordinary occasions, it being almost wholly closed not only to the members of the family, but to the sun and light. Now it strikes us that the most convenient, agreeable, and for that matter, the most pleasant room in the house should be selected as the family room. Let its doors be ever open, and when the work of the kitchen is completed let the mother and daughters be found there with their appropriate work. Let it be the room where the family altar is erected, and consecrated to neatness and purity. Let no hat ever be seen in that room on the head of its owner; let no coatless individual be permitted to enter it. If father's head is bald, and some there are in that predicament, his daughter will be proud to see his temples covered by the neat and graceful silken cap that her own hands have fashioned for him. Let that table which has always stood under the looking-glass, against the wall be wheeled into the room, its leaves raised, and plenty of useful books and periodicals be laid upon it. When evening comes bring on the lights—and plenty of them—for sons and daughters, all who can, will be most willing students. They will read, they will learn, they will discuss the subjects of their studies with each other, and parents will often be quite as much instructed as their children. The well conducted agricultural journals of our day throw a flood of light upon the science and practice of agriculture; will show its effects to every passer-by, for with books and studies like these a purer taste is born and grows most vigorously.

Animal Reasoning.

A correspondent of Nature, writing from Cambridge, Mass., says: A lady, a friend of mine, was at one time matron of a hospital for poor women and children which was maintained by subscription. One of the inmates was a blind girl who was there not as a patient, but temporarily till a home could be found for her. She had learned to feed herself, and at meal times a tray containing her dinner was placed on her knees as she sat in a comfortable chair for her special convenience in feeding herself. One day while she was eating, the pet cat of the establishment placed herself before the girl and looked long and earnestly at her, so earnestly that the girl, took her out of the room. Again the next day, at the same hour, the cat entered the room, but this time walked quietly to the girl's side, reared herself on her hind legs, and noiselessly, stealthily reached out her paw to the plate, selected and seized a morsel that pleased her, and, silently as she came, departed to enjoy her stolen meal. The girl never noticed her loss, and when told of it by her companions laughed very heartily.

It is evident that the cat from observation had entirely satisfied herself that the girl could not see, and by a process of reasoning decided she could steal a good dinner by this practical use of her knowledge.

A Woman With a Snake in Her Stomach.

A special to the Cleveland Leader, from Mr. Vernon, dated April 28th, says: Mrs. J. B. Elliott of this city, who for the past six months has been a great sufferer, has come to the conclusion that a snake of considerable size has grown and is now living in her stomach. She claims, with great firmness, that she can feel it crawling and bite her occasionally. The attending physician, in order to bring the reptile from its present abode, advised the lady to fast for ten days, and then attempt to coax it out with a pan of milk. The trial was commenced, to day being the fifth day of fasting, when the woman became prostrate and was compelled to take food. The case excites much interest among the men of medicine here. Mrs. Elliott is in a critical condition, and her husband and friends are very much alarmed.

'I play only by note,' said a pianist. 'Seems to me you could do more execution if you would play by ear,' remarked Fogg. 'Such a reach, you know.' And the pianist reached for Fogg, who got himself out of the way just in time.

Improvement for Mind and Body.
For genuine merit there is no tonic sold that begins to compare with Parker's Ginger Tonic. One 50 ct. bottle contains more life and strength restoring power than a bushel of malt or a gallon of pure milk. As an appetizer, blood purifier and kidney corrector, it meets with astonishing success, and invalids find its use promptly followed by renewed energy and vivacity, mental and physical improvement, and gradual restoration to perfect health. The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. Also excellent for human flesh. READ PROOF BELOW.

From a Prominent Physician.

Washingtonville, Ohio, June 17, 1880. Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gentles: Reading your advertisement in The Field and Farm, of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and having a valuable and speedy horse which had been lame from spavin eight months, I sent you for a bottle by express, which in six weeks removed all lameness and enlargement and a large splint from another horse, and both horses are to-day as sound as colts. The one bottle was worth to me one hundred dollars. Respectfully yours, H. A. BRIDGEMAN, M. D.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

Ashland, Schuykill County, Pa., June 2nd, 1880. Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gentles:—A case of spavin that came under my observation was entirely cured by one bottle of your Kendall's Spavin Cure, and the horse sold afterwards for two hundred dollars. Yours truly, CHAS. H. BARNARD.

Statement Made

UNDER OATH.

To WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—In the year 1875 I treated with Kendall's Spavin Cure, a bone spavin of several months' growth, nearly half as large as a hen's egg, and completely stopped the lameness and removed the enlargement. I have worked the horse ever since very hard, and he never has been lame, nor could I ever see any difference in the size of the hock joint since I treated him with Kendall's Spavin Cure. H. A. GAINES. Enosburgh Falls, Vt., Feb. 23, 1879. Sworn and subscribed to before me this 23th day of Feb., A. D. 1879. JOHN G. JENSEN, Justice of the Peace.

Kendall's Spavin Cure for ## Human Flesh.

Patten's Mills, Washington Co., N. Y., Feb. 21, 1878. B. J. Kendall, M. D.: Dear Sir,—The particular case on which I used your "Spavin Cure" was a malignant ankle sprain of sixteen months' standing. I had tried many things, but in vain. Your "Spavin Cure" put the foot to the ground again, and, for the first time since hurt, in a natural position. For a family liniment it excels anything we ever used. Yours truly, REV. M. P. BELL, Pastor M. E. Church, Patten's Mills, N. Y.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

Is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, and yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach any deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or any other enlargement. It is used for several days, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects. It is used full strength for work horses at all seasons of the year. Send address for Illustrated Circular, which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such universal success, to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price 31 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. ALL DRUGGISTS have it or can get it for you. It will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vermont.
